September 9, 2007

What: Neighborhood Association Meeting

When: Thursday, September 6th at 7p.m.

Where: Garfield School

Why: Guest speaker, Tracy Stebbins of the City of Danville code enforcement division.

Recap from last month:

The City of Danville will only pay for 2 mailings for each neighborhood group. Since this is the case, we picked a 'Block Leader' for each block, who will walk door to door and drop off flyers. We also had some volunteers who can print the flyers for us.

We discussed alternatives to Garfield school for meeting locations. We decided that we need to keep the meeting location in our neighborhood. Garfield school is a good location, just very hot in the summer. The Credit Union cannot be used, due to federal regulations. The Mossett center has a large cost.

We talked about possible guest speakers for the future. Maybe someone from the police department, the fire department, code enforcement from the City of Danville, our Aldermen, etc.

Again, we touched on the fact that we will have meetings about 8 times a year. That means after the September and October meetings this year; we will be off until March 2008. Next year we will start off with a full year, with more time to plan activities and acquire guest speakers. This year, is really just getting us organized and set-up.
